Isabella Russell Fairfax: Prominent African-American civic leader

Lifestyle

Isabella Russell Fairfax: Prominent African-American civic leader

Photograph provided by the Lynchburg County Historical Society in the Bethune-Douglas Center on Park Avenue (1966).

Isabella Russell Fairfax was born in Williamsport, the son of John W. and Annie Newman Fairfax John. He was educated in Williamsport, and went on to graduate from Howard University's School of Law in 1920.

Isabella Russell Fairfax was active in the community, serving as a leader and advocate for African-American issues. She was a member of the African-American Children's Association, and served as the treasurer of the African-American Women's Association.

Isabella Russell Fairfax was a voice for the African-American community, advocating for civil rights and social justice. She was a leader in the struggle for equal rights in education, housing, and other areas.

Isabella Russell Fairfax was a woman of great courage and conviction, and her legacy continues to inspire and influence the community today.