Meanwhile in a Parallel Universe

This body of work demonstrates my imagination of an alternate reality. This version examines the opposite of the norm that we as human society typically see or expect to experience. Through this project, I want the audience to experience various perspectives about the social life around us. I like to play around with different styles and proportions to create powerful yet simple visual works that are permeated by a subtle sense of humor. My goal is to create visually appealing works with which the viewers can form their own peculiar connections. This series comprise a combination of 8 pieces of digital collage, made from the assemblage of heterogeneous elements, thus presenting a new whole meaning.
