

Fear of Darkness

Jennifer Fischer

My current body of work is based in digital photography. I am interested in exploring the gravity and meaning behind my lifelong fear of darkness. When I am in the dark, specifically alone, I tend to imagine shapes and figures that aren't there. And I usually get paranoid when I can't actually see what's in front of me. Bringing my deep love for photography into the equation has helped me confront my fears. I wanted everyone to be able to see the world at night like I do: An eerie place where you don't want to be. I aim to unite the two, my love of photography and fear of the night, and in doing so will hopefully overcome my fear of the dark.
