7. Communication to Students Concerning the Emergency Financial Aid Grants

To distribute this grant Lycoming College emailed all 426 high-need students on March 3, 2021, the following information.

Dear Lycoming College Student,

We are writing to make you aware that as a Pell Grant recipient, possible federal grant funding may be available to you if you are having difficulty in paying your educational expenses this current spring semester. The name of this grant is The Federal Covid Student Relief Grant (CRRSAA). If, due to the Covid-19 Pandemic, you are having difficulty paying for expenses such as books, payment plan obligations, your student account balance or other school related expenses, please contact BOTH Jim Lakis, Director of Financial Aid, and Cynthia Springman, Bursar, by clicking here.

As briefly but concisely as possible, please let us know in your email how the pandemic has affected your ability to meet your educational expenses. Expenses such as tuition, fees, housing, books and supplies, transportation costs, medical and childcare expenses can be considered. It may help us if you can provide the costs of any of the expenses that you have.

Amounts of individual grants will be partially determined by the results of your 2020-21 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), and the information you provide in your email to us. The minimum and maximum grant amounts will vary depending on the number of requests and the severity of the student's existing financial situation brought on by the pandemic. Our intention is to assist as many students as possible while being sensitive to those with extraordinary need, in accordance with the U.S. Department of Education's guidance.

A response to any request will be made as quickly as possible. We do appreciate your patience, however, as we attempt to review each request and make determinations as equitably as we can. Of course, if you have questions, please contact the Bursar or Financial Aid Office.
