Lycoming College is one of the 50 oldest colleges in the United States, and has received national recognition by the Princeton Review, Forbes, Colleges of Distinction, and U.S News & World Report. The fact that Lycoming has also been recognized by The Chronicle of Higher Education for distinction as a “Great Colleges to Work For” serves to underscore the type of familial culture that permeates our campus.

Medical Information

All students attending Lycoming College must submit a completed immunization record to Student Health Services, and for exchange students some vaccines required in the United States may be different from the vaccines required in their home country. It is advised that students receive all required immunizations for the United States before arriving at Lycoming College. Exchange students are also required to buy a Lycoming College-sponsored international health insurance plan. Please note that health insurance plans in the United States are designed to assist in costs of medical care but do not cover all expenses. It is advised that students plan to have discretionary funds available for health care needs.

Housing Information

At Lycoming College, 87 percent of students live on campus within ten residential halls. Exchange students are guaranteed on-campus housing and will be housed in an upperclassmen residential hall, with a roommate. These living arrangements offer the convenience of easy walking distance to classes, the ability to meet other students and to build a strong campus community.

- Internet access in rooms
- Common lounge spaces
- Wireless capabilities in lounges
- Keyless card access to each building
- In residence laundry facilities

Lycoming also offers an Affinity Community Housing Program within the residential halls, and these housing communities enable students to live together with other students who share common interests or lifestyles. Pending availability these community options are available to interested exchange students.
